Sheriff Meany, of Merced, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Davis and Sheriff Brenham, of Santa Clara county, arrested a man supposed to be Jewell, the Santa Clara county murderer, between Made:a and Berenda. He made no resistance, but was at once heavily ironed and brought to this place by the night ironed and brought to this place by the night train and lodged in jail. He was this morning taken to Santa Clara county. Meany first got track of Jewell at Firebaugh's Ferry, and arrested him there last Saturday, but released him because he was not wounded in the head, as described by Majers, nor in the hand; but a subsequent dispatch caused him to pursue and arrest him. When he arrived at Firebaugh's he was on a horse answering the description of the one stolen from Santa Clara county.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

SAN JOSE, March 19th.—Sheriff Brenham has arrived with Joseph Jewell, the Lexington murderer, in charge. The excitement here was intense this evening. Hundreds of Los Gatos people were in town, and at 5 P. M. over 1,500 people were at the San Pedro street depot awaiting the arrival of the train. Among the number were some 50 horsemen from the mountains, who were on hand, it is said, to seize Jewell, bear him off and lynch him. The design was suspected and frustrated by stopping the train at Empire and Sixth streets, where a covered carriage was in waiting. In front of the Court-house and at the approach to the jail nearly 800 people were congregated, but no demonstrations were made as the carriage drove by. Jewell had up to getting in the carriage been wonderfully composed, but when he saw the crowd by the Court-house he turned very pale. As the carriages to the carriage date the door of the jail, he jumped out and ran quickly into the office. He declines to make any statement, and protests his innoceance.

The Mormous in Congress.

SALT LAKE, March 19th,-There was a large attendance at the Mormon Tabernacl yesterday, to hear Apostle Cannon and El-der Caine tell their experience in Washington during the late session of Congress. Cannon was the first speaker, and said matters looked gloomy for the Saints when Senator Edmunds introduced supplemental legislation to his anti-polygamy law, but Jere Black, the apostle of Democracy, aided in defeating the measure. At the same time a dinner was given by some Cabinet officer, which caused the absence of many Senators who favored the measure, and by dilatory motions of its Democratic friends the amendment was at last defeated. He had learned since his return that John Taylor was feeling terribly blue at this time, gathered the holy priesthood together and repaired to the Endowment House, where they prayed that their enemies might be confused and defeated. Coulter, who testified to having been for six years a night watchman in Woodland; knew deceased; saw him about midnight at Jury's restaurant on March 26, ISS2; saw Frank Rahm at 4 o'clock next morning on Main street; he came from the east; he told me he had been to the old man's ranch, and had just put up his rig; he asked if there was a about his eye; I don't think he was the same; said he never had a black eye before; he only took two drinks while there; he had been drinking wine when he came there.

M., but it lacked but a few minutes of 2 o'clock when it re-assembled.
William D. Johnston testified: Reside in San Francisco; am a chemist; examined intestines of John E. Maltby; examined intestimes for meconic acid, morphine, strychnine and found none; found no food, and only suf ficient moisture to moisten them; examined intestines, found no traces of strychnine; does not decompose; examined bottle of liquid sent me by District Attorney Garoutte; found it to contain strychnine; in this case poison ought to have been very readily absorbed; usually persons dying from strychnine traces of it will be found in the stomach, but if just the quantity to produce death had been taken, and patient had lived several hours, you might not find it; if a man died almost instantly from strychnine there would be no evidence of a strugadopted a resolution to submit the whole question to a vote of the people on two propositions: 1st, to authorize the lavying of special taxes on the traffic; 21, to prohibit the traffic in the State. The belief is, that the first proposition will be adopted by the people, and thus the temperance question will be settled in Ohio on a squarely-made issue, and be lifted out of any political contest in which candidates take part.

A Possible of the Jeannette's crew.

Coleridge Kennard writes to the London Times complaining of the Commons neglecting his motions relative to the surplus of the Sarphine of taking poison, he would die without such great struggles as he would otherwise; strychnine will kill if taken and held in the mouth and not swallowed; is not conclusive that he did not die from strychnine; if he died on his back, and was on a sloping piece of ground, he would not be turned over by the gases generated in the body by decomposition; one-sixth grain of strychnine will produce death; in cases of strychnine poison the muscles twitch, the pa-tient has his senses, and it would be possible for him to roll on his side in an interval of quiet, and he might die while there from exquiet, and he might die while there from exhaustion. [Witness read some authorities to sustain his theories concerning failures in finding the presence of strychnine, he claiming that it is almost always capable of being found when it had been the cause of death.] G. G. Tyrrell, of Sacramento, testified

Am a physician and surgeon; have had twenty-seven years practice; graduated in Ireland. There are no effects that you will find in a body which died from strychnine which would be conclusive that it had died from such cause. The position in which de-ceased was found would not indicate that he died from such cause. I would expect to find the heart flabby and empty, if the rigor mortis had passed off. The lungs would be gorged, but if putrefaction had set in they might not be. If the body had not been disturbed the tissues in contact with the ground should be white; but if the body had been removed be white; but if the body had been removed after death, it would be of a darker color. A blow upon the head need not necessarily fracture the skull, and still it might produce death, as, for instance, a blow from a sand-bag; you could receive a blow upon the neck that would kill you; I should expect to find evidences of a struggle in case of strychnine, unless death had resulted instantly, and would also expect to find straw attached to the coat, if one was on the body and it laid upon straw. A person killed by a blow from a sand-bag would have the heart full of blood, if examined soon after death, but if examined a long time after death this would not be true. After hearing death this would not be true. After hearing the statement of the physician who held the post mortem, I cannot say that it is impossi-ble for deceased to have died from strychnise. Dr. Deuel, of Sacramento, testified: Am a

Dr. Deuel, of Sacramento, testified: Am a physician and surgeon, practicing eleven years; have had a moderate experience with strychnine poison; would expect to find a body rigid and muscles contracted immediately after death; six or eight days after the muscles are relaxed if the body is not disturbed; would not expect to find a body as deceased was found, but it might be in that position; as a rule, there should be evidences of, a struggle depending on the extent of convulsions; in case of a person killed by a sand-bag, would expect to find one or both sides of the heart filled with blood; it would be so, to some extent, eight or ten days after Rahm then went to the Courthouse and returned; he said to the other man, "Get the buggy;" the other man went to the north side of the Court-house and get a buggy and brought it down Second street to the place where Rahm was; they put Maltby in the buggy, the other man got in and drove along Court street to Third, and turned north; Rahm got into the buggy in the rear of the Court-house; they then drove away. When Rahm returned to Maltby from the Court-house I did not notice him carrying anything; they carried the body to the buggy and lifted it into the buggy; it was a tall buggy and a roan horse; the other man got buggy and a roan horse; the other man got into the buggy and drove off; Rahm came past the south side of the Court-house and past the south side of the Court-house and got into the buggy on the east side of the Court-house. This occurred in Woodland, Yole county, Cal.

Cross-examination — Question — Do you realize the condition that you are in? Answer—I do.

Q.—Did you ever make a written statement? A.—Yes; I have made one statement and signed one only.
Q.—You say you stood by the gate at the corner? A.—Yes.
Q.—Where had you been? A.—To a house of ill-fame.
In answer to questions witness continued: George Harris was with me when I saw the blow struck. I do not know where he is now

George Harris was with me when I saw the blow struck. I do not know where he is now. I told this about two months ago. Did not tell it before, because I did not know where Harris was, and did not know that I could prove what I said. When I saw the blow struck I thought Maltby was drunk, and did not think any more about it until he was found dead. I do not know whether I voted for Rahm or not. Do not know that I found dead. I do not know whether I voted for Rahm or not. Do not know that I solicited anyone to vote for him. I was in Woodland working in the Fashion Livery Stable. When the buggy came around, was standing within fifteen or twenty feet of the corner of the Court-house yard. Do not know who the man with Rahm was. We said nothing at the time to them, nor they to us: there was no moon; the trees they to us; there was no moon; the trees were then about as they now are; came by the way of the Court-house when we went home, to avoid being seen on Main street so home, to avoid being seen on Main street so late at night.

Here the Court, witness, lawyers and reporters went into the Court-yard to inspect the place where witness said Maltby was killed, but the spectators, fearing they might loose their seats, discreetly remained in their places. The party was absent about twenty minutes. Upon return, defendants asked for the written statement of this witness, which the written statement of this witness, which was given to them by the District Attorney. was given to them by the District Attorney.
The examination was suspended while the defendants and their attorneys perused the document. During the taking of the testimony of Stotenburg the spectators evinced the liveliest interest.

Resuming, witness said: I had known Harris in Schoma county four years ago; he was a farmer; do not know any one here that was a farmer; do not know any one here that knew him : he was here only a couple of days; he slept in the barn with me, and ate at the hotel with me. I first met him eighteen miles from Santa Rosa in the redwoods; met him once in Sacramento; have seen men speak to him but cannot name them now. Harris is light complected, had mous-tache and side whiskers, and is about as tall as I sm; he came here on Friday or Satur-day before the murder, and left the next day; saw him in Sacramento two months ago; he said he had been in Carson, Nevada; do not remember distinctly what Harris and I said about the matter between ourselves, but think we agreed not to mention it until it was straightened out; I said, I guess Maltby is drunk, and Rahm is taking him home. The drunk, and Rahm is taking him home. The witness described the man with Rahm as being much like George Rahm, but could not say if it was him, because he did not hear him speak. [Witness then told his whereabouts during Sunday night from dark until he went home Monday morning, and also the time he remained at each place.] There were three beds in the barn; we slept in the main room-I slept in a cot and Harris slept with me. I got up about 4 o'clock, leaving him in bed. The first person I ever told about this was Joseph Craig, District Attorney, and about two menths ago. I told torney's office, testified: Live in Woodland; received from P. Krellenberg a bottle said to contain the intestines of John E. Maltby; Indiversed the bottle to Johnston, a chemist id an Francisco; the bottle was sealed; I not wish to be annoyed by people about it. I think all the boys around the barn saw Harris. I ate with him at the Craft Hotel, and at the Capital Hotel. While here he slept with me at the bain. When at Sacra mento I think I stopped at the City Hotel. ABOUT THE PROPOSED COUNTY HOS-

set by the Board of Supervisors for awarding set by the Board of Supervisors for awarding the contract for boring wells at the County Hospital, and putting up horse-power as a substitute for the steam-power now in use.

March 13th.

Chap. LXII.—Giving $163,000 for a new proved March 13th.

Chap. LXIII.—Creating a State Board of the contract of the steam-power now in use. Being a practical well-borer, and having been engaged in the business of erecting water works for more than twenty-five years, I wish to state why I have offered no bid for the work. First, the number of gallons per heur which it is required that the contractor shall warrant the pumps to put into the upper tank is 9,000 gallons, which will require, at the lowest estimate, at least five horsepower. I have been informed by a member of the Board that but two horses will be allowed.

Second there is now an inexpensitible supply the Board that but two horses will be allowed. Second, there is now an inexhaustible supply of water in the well already borad to the depth of 122 feet. Another well is entirely unnecessary and a useless expanditure of money. As I am a citizen and taxpayer of this county, I do not wish to see the county funds uselessly expended. Third, with but slight changes the present pumping facilities are as good as any that could be procured, and can be run as economically as any pumping process. I would bush the steam end of the large pump and discharge the water used sired to test the practicability of horsepower, it can be done from the present well with a comparatively slight expenditure.

The Grand Jury Claims.—District Attorney Carey yesterday filed with the Board of Supervisors his opinion in regard to the legality of the claims of J. E. Hobbie as County Expert, and the salary of the members of the late Grand Jury for time after January 1, 1883. It was to the effect that the powers and duties of the Grand Jury ended with theyear 1882. But he saye, "there is a question of law involved in it for which I can find no decision of Courts, and my opinion is based upon the construction of the statutes only, without the aid of a precedent. The Superior Court has accepted their work recognized them as a body for the purpose of receiving their report, and this report is largely made up of the work of the expert. In view of the fact it might be advisable to pay the demand of the expert, and also of the Grand Jury." A motion made in the Board to allow the claims for time of the members of the Grand Jury, less the time in 1883, together with mileage, was allowed. The total allowed is $617, and the total claimed was $887 50—a reduction of $220 50. The claim of J. E. Hobbie, for $50 for services rendered for the corner of the Grand Jury, less the time in 1883, together with mileage, was allowed. The total allowed is $617, and the total claimed was $887 50—a reduction of $220 50. The claim of J. E. Hobbie, for $50 for services rendered in clies and counties the power to regulate the control of the state. The rules of the road are fer the conductor to take up the ticket, giving a check in exchange, which is sufficient evidence of payment of fare. Clark, continuing obstinate, was put off the train. Perhaps the conductor had no right to eject him, knowing him to possess a ticket, but it looks very much as if Mr. Clark was endeavoring to purposely work up a case for an action for pecusiary damages. PREFACE.

Announcement in Brief Form of Things to Follow.

Sacramento, March 17, 1883.

TO THE GENERAL READER:

I shall publish in a few days, in this column, the ccount of some of the most remarkable events. I have become possessed of a healing agent that has accomplished almost miraculous results. In proof of it I shall publish certificates from prominent citizens of Sacramento, San Francisco, and from the East.

I will clearly explain my purpose in making these publications. I have for years used the medicine, and it has for years been known in this community Houses To Let Such has become the demand for it that I have resolved to give my whole time to its manufacture. It is no mere patent medicine It is no trumped up affair to catch a penny.

It is a vegetable compound that came knowledge by accident. It has effected cures that are marvelous. I have been scarcely able to realize myself the wonders in I will refer to merchants, manufacturers, brokers, laborers, mechanics and professional men of this

State who have given me indorsements concerning

It is simple, painless, cheap, and has never yet

The medical faculty of this city admit its proper ties and effects, and not a few have used it. As hon est men, they confess that it has healed when all else

I am not the author of the Compound. Its constituent parts were first compounded by a thorough physician in Europe, whose name I will give. I

It will cure and thoroughly heal Chronic Ulcers, White Swellings, Hip Disease, Salt Rheum, King's Evil. Fever Sores, Milk Leg, Itchings and Eruptions of the Skin, Long-standing Sores, Varicose Veins, Inflammatery Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, Sore Breasts, etc., etc.

I am privileged to refer to and will publish certificates of remarkable cures by my Salve, vouched for by F. G. WATERHOUSS, JNO. DRISCOLL, L. A. UPSON. S. P. SCANIKER. CHARLES ORR, JACOB OLSEN, J. F. HILL, ROBERT MELON.

CRINA.

It is currently reported in Shanghai that the British authorities propose to ionitate the example lately introduced by the Garman officials, and resort to forcible measures if private business is obstructed by Chinese. The British Telegraph Company desires to land a new cable at Shanghai, but acknowledges a doubt of their right to do so, and asks permission from the Chinese functionavies, who have withheld an answer for several weeks. Representations having been made to the British Government, the Foreign Office is said to have been telegraphed to land forcibly, if necessary.

nothing more important in a well-regulated kitchen.

It is the cheapest fence made; the most durable; it is not affected by fire, wind or flood; does not cause snow-drifts; takes fewer fence posts; stock cannot push it down; it protects itself—acts on the defensive; it takes but little room; you can cultivate close to it; weeds are easily kept from it; requires but little labor to put it up; you can draw enough at one load to fence a farm; you can fence a good-sized farm in a day; it is the greatest practical invention of the age; and has come to be the farm and railroad fence of the country.

We advise every one who wishes to purchase wire, and wants the best, to buy the CACTUS BARB, as it contains all the favorable features that are required, and none of the objectionable ones. It is made only from the best annealed steel, fully warranted, either galvanized or painted; put up in spools of from 100 to 120 pounds each. Remember, it will not exceed 17 ounces per rod.
